CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

INFORMATION REPORT

This material contains information affecting the National Defense of the United States within the meaning of the Espionage Laws, Title 18, U.S.C. Secs. 793 and 794, the transmission or revelation of which in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law.

25X1

COUNTRY East Germany/China REPORT  Chinese Interest in East German Technical DATE DISTR. Instruments  NO. OF PAGES  NO. OF PAGES  REQUIREMENT REFERENCES  This is UNEVALUATED Information  THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE. THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE.  (FOR KEY SEE REVESE)  1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields  b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods  c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes  d. Theodolites (no specifications)  e. Balloon-theodolites  f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries, just to make conversation, but rather carefully phrased inquiries made with a definite purpose.	25X1
Instruments  NO. OF PAGES  REQUIREMENT  REFERENCES  This is UNEVALUATED Information  THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE. THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE. (FOR KEY SEE REVERSE)  1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather
NO. OF PAGES  REQUIREMENT  REFERENCES  This is UNEVALUATED Information  THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE.  THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE.  (FOR KEY SEE REVERSE)  1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (ho specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries, just to make conversation, but rather	19 October 1954
This is UNEVALUATED Information  THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE.  THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE.  (FOR KEY SEE REVERSE)  1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather	1
This is UNEVALUATED Information  THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE.  THE APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE.  (FOR KEY SEE REVERSE)  1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods  c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications)  e. Balloon-theodolites  f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather
1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather	25X1
1. Interest on the part of an unspecified Chinese Government min to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather	25X1
to an East German optical and precision instrument production the delivery in 1955 and 1956 by East Germany of the followin  a. Radar and GCA equipment for airfields b. Binoculars, 15 x 50, and possibly even more powerful unit mounted on tripods c. Surveying instruments for mapping purposes d. Theodolites (no specifications) e. Balloon-theodolites f. Electronic microscopes  2. The East German production expert had the definite impression were not casual queries just to make conversation, but rather	25X1
•	that these
	25
	i :
SECRET	_
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

(NOTE: Washington distribution indicated by "X"; Field distribution by "#".)